

Sponsor Categories and Benefits

The F&BMA is a platform for F&B Managers/Restaurant General Managers in London to meet and network to discuss the challenges, new trends and fashions, products and other general topics that relate to the Food and Beverage industry with in the most competitive city in the world.

The F&BMA holds 5 networking events a year at various hotels and establishments that are run by our members. The events are designed to be informal, fun and a relaxed environment, away from the pressure of everyday life, but they are also an opportunity to be informative and give exposure and knowledge to the current leaders of the F&B industry in London.

The F&BMA is a non-profit organisation and as such the F&BMA ask suppliers to help sponsor the events at the venues due to the demands of the establishments' owner/budgets etc. so as to keep costs to a minimum.

There are two ways to be part of the organisation and have an opportunity to show case your products to the main purchasers and organisers of hotels and restaurants in London. At each event the association tries to have a maximum of three suppliers who each have the opportunity to present the product/brand to the attendees.

Membership 1 - £1250.00

Pay £1250.00 to the association to become a member for one year and attend all 5 networking events and to present/showcase the product/brand at one event by supplying the products and have the opportunity to allow delegates to taste and/or try. This includes a 10 minute presentation.

Membership 2 - £2250.00

Same as Membership 1 however this option also gives you associate memberships to the International F&B Managers Association which consists of UK, Germany, Switzerland, Greece, Singapore, Malaysia, Taiwan, Cambodia, China & Indonesia and expanding. The benefit for you is that you are able to tap into the IFBA network of membership and we can assist in connecting you with IFBA members for product launch or to explore opportunities in new countries.

Added Benefits:

As well as having access to the association and the hosting venue, the F&BMA will also showcase your product on the F&BMA website and utilise our social media sites – Facebook/Instagram/LinkedIn and email your companies details to all members (including those members that did not attend) after an event. You will have one of the committee members as your direct contact for any questions or advise you might need/want.
